MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: Herbert E. Hetu
Director of Public Affairs

SUBJECT: "Time" Magazine

1. I have learned that "Time" magazine is in the process of producing a thoughtful story on the future of American intelligence. It will be a "Time Essay," being written by Ed Warner who is an associate editor based in New York who normally writes for the "Nation" section, usually about national security matters. To assist in preparing his essay, Warner asked several of "Time's" overseas bureaus to provide insight and an overseas view of the American intelligence apparatus.

2. I don't know when the essay will appear but it is apparently not being rushed to completion.
